Giants Beat Pittsburgh, 5 to 1

ALL BREAKS IN CONTEST TOM'GRAW CRIPPLES

Jimmy O'Connell's Homer In Fourth Starts Off New York Scoring

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The New York Giants stepped one jump farther toward their fourth consecutive National league championship here this afternoon when they met and defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 1, and used a patched up lineup to do it.

Lee Meadows, veteran of the Pittsburgh pitching staff, out-pitched Hugh McQuillan of the Giants in the early stages of the game, but the breaks were with the Giants.

A home run smash by Jimmy O'Connell, center fielder, in the fourth inning with Lindstrom on first, broke the ice. The Giants added three more runs in the seventh when Meadows issued his only passes, and these were followed by Gowdy and Maranville's bad throw on a relay to the plate.

SAVE MAN FROM MOB

CHESTER, S. C., Sept. 23.—Several officers, armed and in a high-powered automobile, today were rushed to Columbia with a negro prisoner in an attempt to evade a mob which has been hot on his trail since the arrest late last night. The negro, who is unidentified, is charged with attacking a popular young white girl of this city.

MUSICIANS STOP PANIC

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Genoa's municipal bandmen proved themselves heroes and averted panic and a possible stampede when they calmly continued to play while five earthquake shocks shook the city, according to a dispatch to the Daily Mail.

Murphy's Show Replies To Edict Of County Supervisors

Denied permission to operate their tent theatre in Casa Verdugo after October 1, by an edict of the Los Angeles county Board of Supervisors just issued by Supervisor Henry W. Wright in person, Murphy's Comedians came back with the straight-from-the-shoulder announcement that on that date they will break ground for their permanent $250,000 home at thousands as the northeast corner of Central avenue and Stocker street, where the most popular tent show in Southern California performs seven nights a week.

"We didn't want to start the new theatre quite so soon," said Manager J. A. Menard of Murphy's Comedians, who have of late been operating under a permit granted

Oregon Deer Die By Score Result Of Mouth Disease

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 23.—An outbreak resembling the foot and mouth disease has been discovered among mule deer in Klamath county, near the California line, it was reported to the State Game commission here today. Seventy-two deer were found dead at Malin and seven at Klamath Falls. The disease starts with ulcers in the mouth and spreads rapidly from one animal to another. Whether it enters the hoofs of the deer and is spread on the ground, as in the case of hoof and mouth disease has not yet been determined by Captain A. E. Burghdoff, state game warden, who has telegraphed California authorities for information on the malady.

GERMANY TO DECIDE ON LEAGUE

Cabinet Council Meets To Discuss Conditions of Entering Combine

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—The German cabinet agreed unanimously this afternoon to declare itself in favor of the republic's entry into the League of Nations, provided the powers guarantee Germany admission with rights equal to the other big nations. President Ebert presided at the meeting.

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—Germany's entrance into the League of Nations with "equality reservations" was expected to be the decision of the cabinet council summoned today to consider this issue.

It was anticipated that the most important of the conditions would be, in addition to equal treatment, abolition of military control so that Germany would be placed upon her own honor in the matter of armaments and a tacit understanding that Germany was NOT responsible for the World war. Final decision, however, will be left to the Reichstag.

See Cabinet Split
Nationalist newspapers have not given up hope that there will be a split in the cabinet over the war guilt issue.

There is one faction of the nationalists that is insisting that Germany refuse to enter the League of Nations unless the war guilt question be opened so that Germany can have a chance to prove its innocence.

FORCED TO SUSPEND

ALMERIA, Spain, Sept. 23.—Prices have struck such a slump here that many retail shops have been forced to close.

HEAVY GUNS READY FOR POLITICAL BATTLE

Oratorical Artillery Comes Into Action as Fight Hits 'Crucial Point'

By GEO. R. HOLMES
For International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—Six weeks from today the greatest army of American voters ever assembled will march to the polls to cast the largest vote in the nation's history—and a vote which, despite its enormity, may still prove indecisive and throw the election of the next president to the House of Representatives.

The six weeks period between now and November 4 is conceded by leaders of all parties to be the "crucial" period of the campaign and plans accordingly are being shaped with this fact in view.

The big guns of the administration will start booming along the campaign front this week. Secretary of State Hughes has been elected to lead off in this regard, and will inaugurate the big republican speech-making in Ohio, home of the late President Harding.

Worry About West
The secretary of state is to be followed on the stump by other members of the Coolidge cabinet.

MAY GET AIR PORT

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 23.—With the withdrawal of objections by protestants, final approval of the plans for the establishment of an air port in Griffith park is expected from the City Council's Welfare committee tomorrow. It was understood that when the council agreed to set aside land for the air field the federal government would supply the air port with approximately $200,000 worth of equipment.

CONCESSION NOT LEGAL

MADRID, Sept. 23.—Answering reports in the foreign press that British are negotiating with Abdel Karim for mining concessions, a directory communiqué today points out that such concessions would be illegal and invalid, under international treaties.

BATTLE NEAR FRONTIER

TANGIER, Sept. 23.—Serious fighting was reported today in East Alcazar, near the frontier of the zone which government troops have cleared of rebellious Riff tribesmen.

That's why our patients are our best boosters. They are in a position to know better than someone who has neither tried nor studied it, because they have investigated and experienced its merits.

Chiropractic is a science in itself, vastly different from all other methods. That it gets results is proven by the fact that it is the most rapidly growing health method in the world today.

Although not a "cure-all," over 90% of all diseases have been successfully handled by Chiropractors, among which are many so-called incurable diseases.

Glendale Evening News

Entered as second-class matter January 12, 1922, at the postoffice at Glendale, Calif., under act of Congress of March 3, 1879. Published daily except Sunday.

Every Woman Is Invited

Two views of MRS. FLORENCE AUSTIN CHASE, expert on better foods and better homes, who will conduct a free school in Hahn's auditorium under the auspices of The Glendale Evening News, to which every woman is invited. The school will be held from September 29 to October 3.

Mrs. Chase, Nationally Known as Better Foods, Better Homes Expert, Will Give Series Of Lectures To Women Of Glendale And Vicinity. The Series Starts on September 29.

That the Better Foods, Better Homes School, to be conducted by Mrs. Florence Austin Chase, nationally known domestic science expert during the week of September 29 to October 3, under the auspices of The Glendale Evening News at Hahn's Auditorium, 109-A North Brand boulevard, promises to be one of the greatest and most popular events of its kind ever held in this city, was attested today by the many phone inquiries received at this office concerning the program which Mrs. Florence Austin Chase would give.

Provided these inquiries are a criterion of the general interest evidenced by the women of Glendale, it is now definitely assured that the attendance at these lectures will be even greater than was at first anticipated.

All women of Glendale and the valley have been cordially invited by The News to attend the Better Foods, Better Homes School program, beginning next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Helps Solve Problems

Every woman who has been confronted by the problem of "What shall I give him to eat?" will be grateful to Mrs. Chase for helping her to happily solve that problem. Every woman who has grown tired of the arrangement of her home and yet could not decide on any better way of arranging it, should plan to attend this series of lectures and demonstrations given at Hahn's auditorium beginning next Monday at 2 p. m.

The Glendale Evening News has made it possible for all of the women of the city and adjacent territory to learn the up-to-date methods of keeping house, and preparing good wholesome meals. That leaves it up to the women to come out with their note books and pencils and attend the lectures arranged for them.

Expert in Her Line

Mrs. Chase is not an ordinary cooking teacher, or an ordinary house decorator—she is, indeed, an artist in her line. She tells and shows how to choose the color scheme for a home, how to select furniture and drapes with an eye to harmony and yet, have that "difference" which is the keynote of successful home making.

Each day part of the program will be devoted to the home beautiful and part to the science of food. Mrs. Chase will prepare a meal beginning with the vegetables, right on down to the serving of the course and will explain just how to get the most value out of the food and how to cook and serve it with the least possible expense. Efficiency in the kitchen is one of her pet hobbies and she has it worked out to the final degree.

No Tickets Needed

Remember, the entire series of lectures and demonstrations is absolutely free, no tickets or coupons of any kind are necessary, just come and bring your friends with their pads and pencils.

In the meantime the program is nearing completion and will be announced shortly. Read the news stories each day and reserve every afternoon next week for this wonderful opportunity.

Special Correspondence

The senior class gave a picnic at Brookside park yesterday in honor of the superintendent of nurses, Mrs. Daisy D. Harris. Just as dinner was being served, the nurses presented Mrs. Harris with a very beautiful pocketbook in the new under the arm style. A very delightful time was spent under the trees in playing games and in giving of impromptu speeches and recitations.

Jack Elvin who has been laboratory technician, has left to attend college where he is to take the premedical course.

John Moseley, who was badly injured in an accident some days ago, is improving rapidly and has been able to give up his private nurse and go on floor duty.

Organize Workers to Boost Bond Projects

Completion of the organization of the Citizens' Bond committee which will work for the Glendale bond issue election set for September 30, was made last night at the bond headquarters when about forty local people held a meeting looking to the carrying of the election. Last night's meeting followed the endorsement given the proposition by the Glendale Realty board, which promised its full support in the bond election parade. Plans for the parade will be completed in the near future and those desiring to take part in the demonstration are asked to get in touch with O. H. Russell, of the firm of Gilhuly & Russell, who has charge of arrangements for the parade. He may be reached by calling Glendale 1999.

Organization of precinct workers will be completed within a few days also, according to the plans outlined, and those favoring the election will get down to work immediately and interest local residents in the value to be attained by carrying the bonds. Another meeting of the committee will be held at headquarters Friday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The San Fernando Improvement association has called for an open-air gathering Saturday night at 8 o'clock when the various issues of the election will be discussed. The meeting will be held in the Glendale ball park at San Fernando road and West Palmer avenue and speakers will be present to explain to the citizens each issue on the ballot. Free coffee will be served.

Glendale's truck load of flowers was taken to Santa Monica by George F. Lyons, chairman of the special committee of the commerce body, who was in charge of arrangements. Howard I. Wood, secretary of the body, accompanied him and a representative body of members also were present to greet the aviators.

Thanks Citizens

In speaking of the welcome to be given the world fliers Secretary Wood of the local chamber stated that Glendale citizens were deserving of many thanks for the manner in which they responded to the program started some time ago by Southern California for greeting the fliers.

The city parks donated a large quantity of beautiful flowers, and citizens responded generously to the fund campaign started in Los Angeles. A portion of the local contribution went directly into the Los Angeles fund, while most of it was sent direct from this city through the Chamber of Commerce.

in weather like this—
use ICE every day!

In changeable weather, perishable foods cannot be kept properly without ice. Any time the thermometer climbs as high as 50 degrees (even if only for an hour or two) your milk, butter and many other foods are affected—not spoiled, but robbed of much of their food value. Sickness and undernourishment in children are often caused by improperly kept food. Take ice regularly. It's the only safe way.

Food is expensive. Ice is cheap. The regular use of ice will pay for itself in the food it saves.

A few cents a day to keep your refrigerator filled with ice will save many dollars worth of food every month.

EXPLORER ON TRIP FINDS ROMANCE

Harold Noice on Way Home
With Bride Following
Daring Exploits

Harold Noice, the daring young explorer, whose adventuresome feet have wandered from Wrangel island, high up on the north Polar cap, to the steaming tropic swamps of interior Brazil, is coming home.

This will be good news to his many friends in Glendale, Eagle Rock and Highland Park—but is best news of all to his patient father and his lonely mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Noice, of 168 Chestnut street, Los Angeles, who have not seen their world-famous son since he visited Wrangel island in 1923, rescuing alive Ada Blackjack, an Eskimo woman, and bearing back the body of Lorne Knight, one of the members of the ill-fated Viljalmur Stefansson expedition of 1921. The other members of this expedition perished in a vain attempt to reach Siberia.

Brings Home Bride
Mr. and Mrs. Noice, Sr., have another surprise in store for them, for Harold was married not long ago.

BOND ISSUES DISCUSSED AT MEET

Wilson Ave. P-T. A. Hears Reasons for Approval Of Propositions

The coming bond election was stressed yesterday at the initial fall meeting of the Wilson Avenue Parent-Teacher association at the school, for Richardson D. White, superintendent of schools, spoke in favor of the purchase by the city of the Harvard High school for a civic center; and A. J. Van Wie, speaking on behalf of the fathers' auxiliary of the P-T. A., emphasized a more adequate fire alarm system, particularly in the city schools.

Mr. White's talk centered about the crowded condition of the Glendale schools and of the need of carrying the bonds in order to provide more funds for enlarging the school system.

Police Protection
Another matter of importance introduced in the meeting was adequate police protection for Glendale school children. Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president of the Glendale Federation, Parent-Teacher associations, told of a traffic conference she had attended.

Seek Change In Route Of Proposed Highway

Representatives from the newly annexed Lake street district, headed by H. M. Hoover, appeared last night before the City Planning commission, assembled at the City Hall, with a request that the proposed truck highway paralleling San Fernando road follow Flower street rather than Lake street, through their district.

The commission decided at the suggestion of its chairman, T. W. Watson, to go over the ground in person before reaching a decision on this matter, and it was voted to meet at the City Hall 9 o'clock next Monday morning, September 29, for this purpose.

Special Meeting
It was also decided to take up the matter again with the Burbank Planning commission, before reaching a decision.

At 8 o'clock on Thursday night, September 25, the commission will hold a special meeting at the City Hall for the purpose of considering separation of the grades at the Los Feliz road and Southern Pacific crossing. A resolution will be ready for adoption at the regular meeting next Monday night at the City Hall, it was announced.

CITY OFFERS ROSES TO BIRDMEN

American Beauty Bouquet And Other Flowers for Returning Aviators

Glendale planned a royal welcome to the round-the-world fliers, who were scheduled to arrive at Clover Field, Santa Monica, this afternoon. Hundreds of local citizens joined in the immense crowd which trekked its way to the beach city to greet the gritty aviators who have encircled the world for first honors in this feat.

In addition to the truck load of flowers contributed by local people an immense bouquet of American Beauty roses, donated by the local Chamber of Commerce, were carried to the field by airplane by Dr. T. C. Young, well known flier of this city.

To Present Flowers
It was Dr. Young who flew over the field when the now famous world flight was started and was scheduled to welcome the aviators when they landed, bringing

Comment

By GIL A. COWAN

Today history is being made. American army fliers have encircled the globe. At Santa Monica, California, the giant planes will land their precious pilots safely and the deed of dreams is then done.

America, Americans, California, Californians have made epochal possibility a fact.

Columns could be written, but words cannot tell the pride in achievement which each and every person in the southland today enjoys.

All hail the conquering heroes of uncharted air lines.

Theirs was to do and dare, and now a benediction in four words: "Well done, mighty men."

Glendale showers its flowers today at the feet of the fliers. As a token of friendship the flowers are fine, but those who subscribed to the "pot of gold" which is being presented these intrepid adventurers as this is being read, have materially shown their appreciation.

No prize other than honor awaits the globe-girdlers from army sources. Indeed, it is said that the cost of the trip is less than $50,000. Newspapers alone spent that sum in chronicling their adventures.

And now at the climax, the return home, the small remuneration is none too generous, but it should be sufficient to assure these mighty men of comfortable homes.

Even in its last stages the flight holds dangers. Just why the war department insists on sending the weather-torn planes along the Pacific coast to Seattle is a difficult question.

It is to be earnestly hoped that the fliers lose neither courage nor luck.

Polygamous practices are literally choking the wheels of the Los Angeles divorce mill. Day in and day out the observer of public records at the court house notes the increasing number of divorces based on infidelity.

Indeed, divorces are becoming so common that only most sensational cases find space in print. Whether or not the public is aware of the fact and doesn't care, or the legal profession cultivates the evil and therefore etherizes anti-divorce legislation, does not involve the moral issue.

Laws are specific and evidence presented in divorce actions should be heard in police courts, not superior courts.

Glendale Elks' Lodge Receives Band Cups

The three silver loving cups won by the Glendale Elks band at the state convention of Elks lodges, held at Catalina island last week, were presented to Glendale lodge, No. 1289, B. P. O. E., at the regular meeting held last night. The presentation was made by Manager Maurice Burke, and the cups were received in behalf of the lodge by Exalted Ruler Earl Patterson, both making appropriate talks. The prize-winning band was in attendance at the meeting in a body, and rendered the two selections which won the cups. Joseph J. Burke, director of the band, gave a short talk, in which he spoke of how much band members appreciated the efforts of the lodge and the reception they received upon returning to Glendale from the convention. A large bouquet of red chrysanthemums with a card of congratulations was presented to the band upon its return here.

Arrangements were made last night for a visit of the local order to Los Angeles lodge, No. 99, B. P. O. E., which will be made Tuesday night, and the Glendale lodge will put on the initiatory services. A large number are planning to make the trip.

Through Mrs. Frank Weller, chairman of the civics committee of the Tuesday Afternoon club, a call is issued to all club members and their friends to a mass meeting, Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the clubhouse. It is the aim of the club to have every club member an informed voter, and it was with this end in view that the mass meeting has been arranged.

Make Reservations for Players' Engagement

The opening of the Dobinson Players for an engagement at the Tuesday Afternoon club theatre is attracting wide attention, according to the reservations that are being received for the first six plays, from Glendale, Los Angeles, Pasadena, Tujunga and other Southern California cities. Miss Eva Daniels, business manager, is busily engaged in completing plans for the opening night next Wednesday. In anticipation of the opening Mrs. Dobinson says: "I hope to make this modest venture more than just a theatre. I want to make it an institution, a vital part of the city's life. I hope the people will accept my work as an effort to help the younger generation to realize that the spoken drama is a part of every full life."

Increases Subscription
Perhaps the most notable contribution in the campaign thus far is given by Rex C. Kelley, the Glendale district Y. M. C. A. secretary, who first pledged $500 and this morning announced at the breakfast meeting of workers that he would increase this to $1,000. It is not generally known in Glendale that Secretary Kelley served in the "Y" war work overseas and was severely gassed while serving on the firing line.

Safety for Things You Hold Dear

Stocks and bonds are not the only things that call for the sure protection of a safety deposit box.

You have other possessions—heirlooms and priceless tokens—the loss of which would cut deeper, perhaps, than the loss of replaceable securities.

Think what it would mean to you if these treasures were destroyed by fire or stolen by thieves.

Do not run the risk of such a misfortune a single day longer. Rent a box in our fire and burglar-proof vault now. Then, whatever happens, you will know that its contents are safe.

The security behind your investment in the Gibraltar Finance Corporation is real and tangible. SHAW KNOCKS AMERICAN FILMS

In an interview with George Bernard Shaw for Harper's magazine, Arthur Henderson asks the noted dramatist if American films are not superior to all others. The reply is characteristically Shavian:

"No. Many of them are full of the stupidist errors of judgment. Overdone and foolishly repeated strokes of expression, hideous make-ups, close-ups that an angel's face would not bear, hundreds of thousands of dollars spent on spoiling effects that I or any competent producer could secure quickly and certainly at a cost of ten cents, featureless over-exposed faces against under-exposed backgrounds, vulgar and silly subtitles, impertinent lists of everybody employed in the film from the star actress to the press agent's office boy—are only a few of the gaffes that American film factories are privileged to make. We shall soon have to sit for ten minutes at the beginning of every reel to be told who developed it, who fixed it, who dried it, who provided the celluloid, who sold the chemicals and who cut the author's hair. Your film people simply do not know how to behave themselves; they take liberties with the public at every step on the strength of their reckless enterprise and expenditure. Every American aspirant to film work should be sent to Denmark or Sweden for five years to civilize him before being allowed to enter a Los Angeles studio.

"Take a highbrow play to a Little Theatre and ask the management to spend two or three thousand dollars on the production and they will tell you they cannot afford it. Take an opium-eater's dream to Los Angeles and they will realize it for you; the more it costs the more they will believe in it. You can have a real polar expedition, a real volcano, a reconstruction of the Roman forum on the spot; anything you please, provided it is enormously costly. Wasted money, mostly. If the United States government put a limit of twenty-five thousand dollars to the expenditure on any single non-educational film, the result would probably be an enormous improvement in the interest of the film drama, because film magnates would be forced to rely on dramatic imagination instead of on mere spectacle. Oh, those scenes of oriental voluptuousness as imagined by a whaler's cabin boy! They would make a monk of Don Juan. Can you do nothing to stop them?"

All very true, Mr. Shaw, and yet these spectacles such as the polar expedition, the volcano, the Roman forum and so forth, may be as interesting and as educational to us low-brows occasionally as an exclusive diet of Shavian drama.

RADIO CONQUERS ARCTIC

We, who listen to the free concerts over the radio are inclined to think of the instrument only as another means of entertainment and when the concert is over we dismiss this wonder of the ages from our minds with the careless remark, "Isn't the radio wonderful?" We do not stop to think how the radio has eliminated distance and brought the out-of-the-way places of the world in direct touch with civilization. Captain Donald B. McMillan pays this tribute to the radio:

"Radio is without question the most valuable item of equipment ever taken into the north by an Arctic explorer. It has enabled us to correct our chronometers daily within one-tenth of a second. Without correct time new lands cannot be placed accurately upon the map.

"It has relieved the anxiety of friends at home as to our welfare and safety. It has kept us in constant touch with the world. It has completely conquered the hitherto dreaded Arctic night. We who go north will ever be indebted to the radio."

REPUBLICAN ISSUES IN MIDDLE WEST

In urging President Coolidge to undertake a speech-making tour of the middle western states, Republican leaders have pointed out that the issues of the campaign will probably be decided in that section of the country. While Wisconsin, Minnesota, the two Dakotas, Montana and Iowa are nominally Republican, it is in these states that the so-called Progressive candidates will receive their largest vote.

It is shown that improved conditions in the agricultural districts are favorable for the administration candidates and that the farmers were at no time carried away by the oratory of those who would align them on the side of discontent. And, though the German-American voters of Wisconsin would like to see the laws of the United States amended to permit the legal manufacture and sale of beer, they would feel friendly, nevertheless toward a candidate who has done so much as General Dawes to restore order in the Fatherland.

YOUTH AND AGE

Striving to retain youth, on the part of both men and women today, is one of the signs of the times. Youth is the most precious possession life can give, and it is often not appreciated until it is gone. Then some think to bring it back by stimulating the appearance of youth, by assuming those outward symbols of youth.

It is commendable for a woman to study her style and dress so that she will make a good appearance. But, wrinkles and gray hair are not necessarily signs of age, although they do not usually make their appearance in youth. Youth in the eyes and in the heart can make wrinkles and gray hair beautiful, while ill-nature and worry make dyed hair and lifted face ghastly symbols of age and death. Men and women who are growing old in years and yet keeping young—not necessarily looking young—are the happiest people in the world.

BOUQUET FROM MAC DONALD

Apropos of the attitude of the government of the United States in its relation to foreign affairs, Premier Mac Donald of England has said: "America has rendered us very valuable help. We have never, so far as I know, asked the assistance of America to do ad hoc work, but America has come in and royally given us all the support that she possibly could. In the recent London conference, which has so splendidly, I think, changed the European outlook, America bore a most helpful part." In France, M. Poincare has issued a statement giving great credit to Secretary Hughes for the helpful spirit manifested at the conference. It would seem that criticism of American aloofness in European affairs is more bitter on this side of the water than the other.

Green apples are not the only cause of stomach ache; there's the green mother.

WELL?

Practical Pacifism

By DR. FRANK CRANE

All who are pacifists do not desire to deliver up their country to any foe that will come and take it. They desire to protect their country and think that this can better be done by a working agreement with other nations than by war.

It is constantly held and stated that pacifism means the absence of love of country. But a pacifist can love his country as intelligently as any militarist. It is only a question of judgment. The method of protecting their country by increasing its attacking power has been tried over and over again and has failed. It would seem that some other method should be tried.

Perhaps it will take a long while to grow up a sentiment that shall properly back the effort to bring the nations together. The idea must win its way by its inherent common sense and against all forms of misconception and misstatement.

America is essentially a peace loving country and the people of every country are peace loving. They do not go into war except as their passions are inflamed and as men play upon their feelings of nationalism and pride.

Whatever, therefore, can help to increase the intelligence of a people and of the diplomats who represent them, whatever can establish the spirit of compromise, without which no peace is possible, must help a little.

It is certain that no nation, just as no individual, can maintain its superiority over all others, it must give way a little. It must abate somewhat of its spirit of pride or vanity for the sake of peace.

Whatever shall bring the nations of the world together and lead them to act for the good of all, instead of for the good of their separate countries, will be of value.

Labor and art and commerce are more and more absorbing the interests of the people. War, as a profession, is losing ground and in time the efforts of every population will be directed rather toward making the individual country serve the world than to dominate the world.

The love of rule has always been disastrous. The love of service makes for peace.

Horoscope

The Sun in benefic aspect dominates this day, according to astrology. Saturn, Mercury and Jupiter are adverse.

When the Sun enters Libra to-day for the autumn quarter the ingress will fall on the cusp of the twelfth house which presages three months in historic events.

At Washington, D. C., Neptune rises and Mars sets, the signs indicating much discontent among the people.

Grave danger of disputes with other powers is preaged by the stars, but there will be much secret diplomacy that conceals delicate crises.

Loss to the government through fraud, forgery and illicit dealings is so strongly indicated that astrologers foretell more sensational investigations.

A woman is to be concerned in a national scandal in which a prominent man becomes embroiled.

Gain of prestige for the President of the United States is prognosticated, but he must be careful of his health at this time.

Messages of evil import regarding some branch of trade or a manufacturing interest may be received this autumn.

This is not an auspicious rule for any new venture on the part of big business, for there will be much misrepresentation of motives.

Libel concerning men in places in the Sun may be detected at this time, if wise measures are taken, but the planets are protecting sedition and intrigue, the seers aver.

Diplomats should be wary while this configuration prevails for they may be easily trapped.

Persons whose birthdate it is should not speculate in the coming year. Those who are employed probably will be promoted.

Children born on this day probably will be clever in judgment, restless, fond of travel and desirous of luxuries. These subjects of Libra often have marked mechanical ability. Girls are usually gentle, intuitive and retiring.

If You Came from Massachusetts THEN YOU KNOW THAT:

Massachusetts has an area of 8266 square miles and a coast line of 250 miles, indented with bays. Buzzard and Nantucket are the most famous bays and Newburyport, Boston Harbor and Marblehead are excellent harbors.

The islands of Nantucket and Martha's Vineyard belong to Massachusetts.

The western part of the state is traversed by the Green mountains whose loftiest peak rises 3,500 feet above sea level.

The largest rivers are the Connecticut, Housatonic and Merrimack.

The soil is poor and sandy near the coast where salt marshes occur.

The southeastern section has many shallow lakes and produces cedar timber and cranberries in abundance.

In the middle and western part of the state the soil is fertile and well cultivated.

A considerable portion of the state is covered with forests and there is a large yield of apples.

The climate is liable to extremes of heat and cold.

Granite is largely quarried. Massachusetts is the third state in the Union in amount of manufactures and in proportion to its area and population it is first.

In shipping Massachusetts is superior to every other state except New York.

Boston, the second seaport on the Atlantic affords excellent opportunities for domestic and foreign commerce.

Massachusetts has a high reputation in educational matters. Harvard University is the oldest in the United States. The state boasts also Boston University, Amherst college, Clark University, Williams college and others.

The state was first composed of two colonies, Plymouth, settled in 1620 and Massachusetts Bay colony. The two were united in 1692 under the name of Massachusetts.

Police Protection for School Pupils Sought

Adequate police protection from auto traffic for Glendale school children is one of the important aims of Glendale Parent-Teacher association activity for the year, and to formulate plans for this work Mrs. O. H. Spradling, president of the Glendale Federation, P. A. T. A. Teachers association, called all P. T. A. presidents and school principals to a meeting yesterday in the office of Richard D. White, superintendent of schools. It was the unanimous opinion that the co-operation of the city police department and the automobile club be solicited. A committee was named to confer with both organizations, specially the automobile club. Mrs. Frank Parr heads the committee. Working with her are Mesdames H. F. Croft, C. H. Bird, John Ogle and Evans.

Each of these women will serve as chairman for schools in different parts of the city. Mrs. Parr will be chairman for Colorado, Glendale avenue, Acacia schools; Mrs. Croft for Cerritos and Magnolia; Mrs. Bird for Columbus and Pacific; Mrs. Evans for Doran, Broadway and Wilson avenue; Mrs. Ogle for Grand View and Central. The traffic problems of the various schools will be studied in detail and experts of the

TICKETS MUST BE SOLD TO THEATRE

J. B. Brown Makes Plain Buying Reserve Seats Necessary to Plan

"The building plans of J. B. Brown & Co. for the Murphy new theatre are proceeding at a rapid rate," Mr. Brown said in the course of a conversation today. And it was quite evident that he was exceeding the speed limit, in accelerating the preliminary arrangements for the brilliant little playhouse and its adjacent business establishments.

"But there is a false idea around," continued Mr. Brown, "that, I believe, I am more or less responsible for myself. It happened this way: During my address at the Sunday's meeting, I inadvertently remarked that the theatre would be built irrespective of the sale of reserve seat tickets.

Offers Explanation
"Now this is not exactly the case. We want the thousands of Murphy supporters to have the pleasure of contributing to this fine playhouse, and thereby incidentally give expression to their deep respect to the Murphy comedians. But it must also be understood that it is absolutely necessary that a certain amount of reserve seat tickets be sold in order to guarantee the early undertaking of the project.

"You see, it is like this. We came to the conclusion, after Mr. Menard, the manager of the Murphy show, consulted us for advice, that the proper course to pursue was an appeal to the thousands of people that flocked to the big tent every night in the week to lay the financial basis for a more comfortable theatre for themselves and their families by buying their seats in advance.

Good Insurance
"The plan is so simple—it is just like investing in a suit of clothes, or furniture, or a home. One does not wear out the suit in a night, neither the furniture nor home in many years. But they buy and pay for these necessary goods in advance. So it is with our proposition. All we ask of the local supporters of the inimitable comedians is to invest in a few weeks of side-splitting mirth at bargain prices, for they are bargain prices, those tickets, because the unfortunate people who do not take advantage of our offer will be obliged to pay $1 for any one night of the first ten nights and 50 cents for any one night for thirty days following. Now I hope I have cleared up any misunderstanding. I might have thoughtlessly created. We want to have the entire building constructed for the colder nights, thus ensuring greater comfort for both actors and patrons and contributing another handsome addition to our own city."

J. B. Brown is the chief executive of Brown & Co., the property managers of the Murphy comedians.

Concrete Streets Aid In Handling Traffic

The increasing use of motor-driven vehicles on city streets has materially changed the requirements for pavement surfaces. It is safe to say that 90 per cent of most street traffic is now self-propelled and moves at speeds many times greater than before. A case in point was recently commented on editorially in the Seattle Times, Seattle having in the past years laid hundreds of thousands of yards of concrete. Says the Times, "A number of streets in Seattle are being paved with concrete. For this change in paving materials the automobile is primarily responsible. Cities were slow to adopt concrete, much slower than the counties, but it looks now as if this paving would become as familiar in municipalities as in rural districts." A pavement, therefore, is now chosen which will afford the greatest service to modern traffic and at the same time be of equal service to horse-drawn vehicles.

Efficiency in street transportation requires a pavement which is so hard and smooth, and yet of skid-proof texture, that the movement of traffic will be made easier instead of being retarded. Wheels must give instant traction when power is applied, and must not tend to stick or cling to the pavement. Every ounce of power is needed to do its work of turning the wheels. Just as speed has become an essential feature of street traffic, so has control assumed a vital relation to public safety. The driver must depend to a large extent on the pavement for that control of his vehicle which will assure safety both to himself and the public when he shuts off the power and clamps the brakes. Unless the pavement is such as to prevent sliding or skidding, he will not be sure that his machine is under control.

In thousands of communities throughout the United States, concrete pavements have proved they render the service demanded of them. They are the safety-first pavement. Whether wet or dry, they preserve an even and skid-proof surface which assures the control of motor traffic. Tires will grip the gritty surface of a concrete pavement and prevent sliding or skidding. Steel-shod horses will be afforded a secure foothold. Another feature of concrete streets that appeals particularly to the engineer is the fact that the pavement may easily be opened and replaced in case it is necessary to lay or repair underground pipes and wires. The repair work can be done at an unusually low figure, which appeals to the taxpayer. Paving with concrete is a good way to insure streets that will give the longest wear and the lowest maintenance cost.

Australia now has nearly 2000 factories.

FROM EAGLE ROCK

EAGLE ROCK, Sept. 23.—Mrs. J. C. Reiter has been appointed acting secretary of the Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce, from October 1 to November 3, following the resignation of Donnell G. Montgomery from this position, which he has held for the past year and one-half.

A permanent secretary will be named by the new board of directors taking office on November 3. Final ballots for this election were mailed out yesterday, Mrs. Reiter states, and must be returned before October 13, when the final count begins.

Miss Marion Jones of 2575 Colorado boulevard, has returned from a two months' trip to Mexico City. She attended the University of Mexico in order to study Spanish. Many unique experiences were enjoyed by Miss Jones. "The beautiful churches, parks, schools and public buildings of Mexico City were enjoyed as well as the sights of the surrounding cities. A most interesting trip was taken to the Pyramids which were constructed by the Aztec Indians and which were just recently discovered.

Mrs. Grayce V. Pickett, real estate broker of 2528 Colorado boulevard, has just returned from a delightful vacation. She and some friends drove to Laguna Beach, where they spent a few days enjoying the scenery and bathing beach of this resort. They then drove on down to San Diego, stopping at Oceanside, Torrey Pines, La Jolla, and other points of interest. She had a fine outing and returned full of enthusiasm for the beauty of Southern California. She is more of a booster than ever for Eagle Rock, which, she says, "has it all over" every other place she visited as a real home city.

Mrs. M. Borroughs and three children, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Hege of Fairpark avenue, have returned to their home in St. Louis.

Mrs. John Tretheway is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edwin Baker of 5202 Rockland avenue. Mrs. Tretheway is from Toronto, Canada, and expects to spend the winter here.

BURBANK NEWS

BURBANK, Sept. 23.—A net balance of $8.05 on the credit side of the ledger is the financial outcome of the San Fernando Valley Industrial exposition, according to a tentative report rendered to the Chamber of Commerce directors by Messrs. J. W. Charville. The figures are as follows:

Makes Tour of U. S., Settles In Southland

After visiting Southern California on his trip around the United States in 1908, Stral Cronley has finally decided to make his home here and has purchased a lot at Pacoima, about ten miles from Glendale and is making his home there. Mr. Cronley fought in the Philippine war for two years and seven months and was later sent to the Mexican border for one year. In October, 1908, he left his family home at Toledo, Ohio, and started on a walk around the edge of the United States making the trip of 12,868 miles in two years and eighteen days. He walked around the edge of the United States and then crossed each state. A diary of the trip through the states was kept by Mr. Cronley and each town in which he visited he had the postmaster stamp the name of the town in the book and he states that he has been offered $200 for the books of his trip, which number five.

Mr. Cronley is able to relate some very interesting incidents which occurred during his walk. He says that when he left Ohio he had 1 cent, four suits of underwear and a $12 Winchester rifle and when he returned he still had the copper cent with an additional $38, and a $20 six-shooter.

The government allows Mr. Cronley a pension of $30 and from this amount he pays $12 a month on his lot and says he lives on the rest of it. He says, however, the condition of his health preventing him from doing much work.

Former City Official In Distributing Concern

Benjamin F. Dupuy of 722 East Lomita avenue, who recently resigned his position as city engineer and superintendent of the street department, is now representing Besone's Distributing Co. of Los Angeles and Bakersfield, contractors and distributors of asphalt and road oils.

R. N. Stryker Predicts North Brand Activity

R. N. Stryker sees a great future for North Brand boulevard. With the completion of the final arrangements for the building of a four-story 150-room hotel and thirteen-store building on the corner of North Brand and California, it forges the final link in making North Brand boulevard the established main business center of Glendale, he declares. In the building of the new hotel and business block along with the present high class building now built and under construction, it clearly shows that the investor in business property is following the growth of Glendale in the up-building of its great foothill residence section, asserts Mr. Stryker.

"Glendale, in acquiring its 100,000 population, will almost to an entirety be built on the fine large slopes of the Verdugo hills and at the rate the homes are being built now we will have a residence section that is not surpassed in Southern California. In the building of this great residence section Glendale is only following in the footsteps of all other large cities in the fact that its main business center follows the greater mass of population," he says.

Mr. Stryker, besides completing the sale of the hotel property last week, also sold 320 North Brand and three lots on Brand near Stocker, aggregating $60,000. These sales with the sale of six houses and four residence lots in the last thirty days shows that Glendale's still continuing its rapid growth.

Harold Williams Aids In Greeting Freshmen

Under the auspices of the Bachelors' club, a "Say Hello and Smile" week is being held this week at the University of Southern California in an effort to foster a get-acquainted spirit among U. S. C. students and a friendly air about the campus. The drive is in charge of Harold Williams, 349 West Garfield avenue, prominent graduate student at U. S. C.

Freshmen and new students will be especially benefited by the drive and because of the increased enrollment at U. S. C. this year every effort will be made to make the movement a success. Posters announcing the anti-highbrow drive are being placed about the campus and in the buildings and stickers with the words "Say hello and smile" are being furnished for those students with cars. The plan is receiving the endorsement of Ned Lewis, student body president, and, according to Williams, everything is being done to put the drive across and the success or failure of the undertaking will lie with the members of the student body. The plan has been carried out with success in other universities.

OFFER CASH FOR FINANCE LETTER

Marvin Smith Starts Contest Through Local Office Of Corporation

Marvin Smith, president of the recently opened Glendale office of the Gibraltar Finance corporation at 218 South Brand boulevard, announces a contest that will interest all Glendaleans in his work and afford them an opportunity to make $100 with no strings tied to it whatever. The details are told by Mr. Smith as follows:

"It's your opportunity to make some easy money. No strings are tied to this offer in any manner. Just take your pencil or pen and write a letter setting forth the reasons why finance securities, especially the Gibraltar Finance corporation securities are a good investment for either the working, business or professional man. These letters will be judged by responsible business men and the three best letters will receive $100 each. A few minutes' time and you may make $100."

Will Print Letters

"The three best letters will be printed in the leading newspapers. Sit down now and write your letter and mail it to our office at 218 South Brand boulevard, Glendale, California. Do it now and you may be the winner."

"The Gibraltar Finance corporation has been recently organized by business men of Southern California to buy and sell mortgages, trust deeds. It was organized to take advantage of the tremendous demand for mortgage money created by the enormous building activity enjoyed for the past two years in Southern California. The demand for mortgage money has exceeded the supply, thereby creating a situation, which the Gibraltar Finance corporation was organized to take advantage of."

Details Given

"A trust deed of say $1,000 is discounted as much as 25 per cent or $250. The corporation sells the trust deed at a discount of 10 per cent or $100. It then multiplies this 15 per cent by from three to five turnovers per year and it shows a profit of from 45 to 75 per cent. Another large source of profit is the placing of first mortgages on improved property, at a discount of from 5 to 10 per cent. And the mortgage is sold to investors without any discount, making a profit of 5 to 10 per cent. Multiply this by a turnover of from three to five times per year and it shows a profit of from 15 to 50 per cent. "Write your letter now, don't wait. The contest ends October 20. You have an opportunity to make $100 with no strings tied to it whatever."

"Don't forget the name Gibraltar Finance corporation. Address 218 South Brand boulevard, Glendale California."

The victory gives New York a percentage of ninety games won and fifty-nine lost. Pittsburgh slumped to an average of .589, with eighty-six won and sixty lost. Two more games remain of the present series and the Pirates are scheduled for five others, all with Chicago.

H. M. BUTTS TELLS ON CIVIC CENTER

Committee Member Gives His Views on Issue to Come Before Voters

Editor The Evening News—As a member of the sub-committee of three who were given the task of reporting on the Harvard High school civic center proposition to the general committee, I have now been requested to submit a paper to the voters explaining the proposition in sufficient detail that all may vote intelligently on No. 4 next Tuesday, September 30.

It is with a measure of pleasure and satisfaction I undertake this task, for in doing so I am forcibly reminded of a trifle over four years ago when the same high school property was the bone of contention in two intensely contested bond elections.

In searching for certain data I came upon letters I published in 1919 and 1920 in which I was the first to advocate the disposal of the Harvard school property and the acquisition of new sites away from the business districts. Our present splendid new high school stands on practically the very spot recommended by me nearly five years ago. The property, when purchased, however, cost just twice the amount for which it could have been secured at the time I wrote.

Points Out Lesson

I speak of the above for the reason that we should be wise and learn a lesson from costly experience. Los Angeles is today faced with the outlay of fabulous sums to attain what we are today being called to vote bonds for, viz.: A centrally located civic center. Los Angeles is compelled to tear down solid blocks of buildings. Glendale is required to do some slight remodeling only.

Proposition No. 4 on the ballot calls for $650,000 for the acquisition and reconstruction of the Harvard street school property; the same to be used for the following purposes: "A city hall, a public auditorium, a public library, a fire station, public comfort stations, a public gymnasium and a public playground."

For a city the size of Glendale to have in its very center a piece of semi-developed property so eminently suited to requirements is indeed a piece of luck far better than even the most far-seeing of us may now realize. Who is there who cannot see in the main high school building, an ideal city hall? And who will deny the absolute and immediate need for a new city hall? It is with extreme mortification that a self-respecting Glendale citizen attends a meeting of the City Council (I refer only to the inadequate quarters, of course). It is with bewildered astonishment he views the overcrowded conditions, spelling enormous inefficiency and risk in every department in the present city hall. He is carried to the point of determined action when he goes across the street and sees the rented quarters in which is housed the city engineering and street departments. A place where the clerks cannot give 50 per cent efficiency and where the most valuable records and maps are totally unprotected from fire. No business house could survive under such conditions.

Central Park Result

The other items in the proposition are each, in turn, of interest and importance. Some of them are undoubtedly for immediate development. Some, perforce, would come up in the more or less distant future, if at all. The main problem is should we take advantage of this last opportunity to make possible all these splendid things for Glendale. With the property once acquired, time will make apparent how it should best be developed. One point of paramount importance not spoken of on the ballot is the splendid central park result, a breathing spot, a place where we can have trees, walks, benches, and a band stand. Some citizens in certain localities might be in favor of devoting at least a part of the Colorado street frontage to business, but here again time will decide. Certain concessions might well be placed on this frontage without detracting from appearance. The auditorium might also be placed there. The park could contain tennis courts and grounds for the horse shoe and croquet clubs. In fact, how can we afford to "pass up" this proposition now.

Now, in the second place, we have all heard about killing two birds with one stone. This proposition is one where the application is indeed very much to the point. We are continuing hearing of urgent additional high school requirements. Glendale is growing so rapidly it seems impossible for the schools to keep pace. Additional funds are required for completing the new high school and a site for a school in the northwest section must be secured now, while sites are available at possible prices. The sale of the Harvard street school to the city will provide the necessary funds for both these projects. It is an ideal proposition and one that no progressive, constructive and unselfish citizen should fail to support.

Let us go to the polls Tuesday, September 30, and "put over" this "big one" for Glendale.

Best Orators Prepare For Campaign's Close

who thus far have been sort of held in reserve for the final dash toward November. Mid-October will see most of them swinging into action with appeals for the election of Coolidge and Dawes. Significant of the big Republican push now being organized, and indicative, too, of the dissatisfaction which many Republicans feel over the situation in the West, were persistent rumors today that President Coolidge is seriously contemplating leaving Washington for at least "several" speeches in selected spots west of the Alleghenies.

Coolidge Undecided

The Republican campaign managers are divided upon advisability of this move. Most of them have advised the president it will not be necessary for him to leave the capital, but Mr. Coolidge is said to be not entirely satisfied with their judgment in the matter, and believes he can help the cause along by appearing in person before some mid-western audience.

If La Follette should carry the seven states named, it would mean fifty electoral votes, and should Davis carry the solid south and the border states—the minimum claimed for him by Democratic managers—it would bring the vote in the electoral college down to such a fine point that the loss of one or two normally Republican states would result in a deadlock and a decision in the house.

Democratic Claims

Democratic leaders claim as certain for Davis these states: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia, totalling 201 electoral votes.

Republican leaders similarly claim as certain for Coolidge these states: California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Utah, Vermont and Wyoming, totalling 275, electoral votes.

him. Once in the air, the planes massed together in a "V" formation, circled over the island and San Diego while thousands from below shouted and waved a fond farewell to them. Then the flyers turned their planes northward and were off for Santa Monica. The trio of planes taxied down the field for the first time promptly at 1 o'clock, but Lieutenant Nelson's motor gave a bit of trouble and they were delayed five minutes on this account.

Escort of Planes

As soon as the world cruisers were off approximately ten escort planes from here took off behind them. All of the escort planes will accompany them to Santa Monica.

CARE FOR REFUGEES

MANILA, Sept. 23.—Governor General Wood returned today from Olongano where he made arrangements for the 1000 Russian refugees harbored there to leave for the United States in December so as to be included in the 1925 immigrant quota. The refugees lack money as Admiral Stark, their leader, left recently for Paris taking with him, according to those remaining behind, most of the proceeds of the sale of the refugee fleet.

HOW SMALLPOX VACCINE IS OBTAINED

Which would you rather have, a sore arm for a few days or smallpox? You probably have never seen a case of smallpox. It is a terribly loathsome disease. Not only is the patient acutely ill but the skin all over the body is a mass of repulsive eruptions. If the patient recovers he may be disfigured for life or left blind or have some other serious disability.

It is hard to realize that smallpox used to be much more common than measles and that for centuries it was one of the greatest scourges. The history of the disease shows that it depopulated whole cities and even exterminated small nations. It was no respecter of persons. Kings and queens died as readily as the low born.

It is claimed by the anti-vaccinationists that improved sanitation has caused smallpox to cease being a scourge. It is contended by physicians and public health experts and health officials that smallpox ceased to be a scourge when Jenner introduced vaccination more than 100 years ago, and that it is only by vaccination that we can keep smallpox from becoming a scourge again. Sanitation and isolation are secondary.

While isolation and methods of sanitation should be carried out with strictness (because smallpox is one of the most contagious of communicable diseases) the only real prevention of the disease is vaccination. Even under the most hygienic surroundings there seems to be no natural immunity against smallpox. It is such a contagious disease that no matter what the state of the individual's health, if he is exposed to smallpox he is liable to contract the disease—unless he has had smallpox or cowpox. The nature has manufactured a defence for smallpox in his body during the time that he had the disease. This defence is usually a permanent one.

Smallpox is a terribly loathsome and often fatal disease. Cowpox or vaccinia, which is a modified form of smallpox, is a very mild disease and one can have it with perhaps no constitutional effects severe enough to stop the daily work. It has been proved conclusively, in our estimation, that the individual and the community can be protected from the loathsome disease, smallpox, by having the very mild disease, cowpox. Shouldn't you be willing to expose yourself to cowpox if thereby you are going to prevent yourself and your community from having smallpox?

Because I know you are interested, I will tell you how the vaccine is made. According to Milton R. Rosan, professor of preventive medicine and hygiene at Harvard, this is the way the vaccine is obtained:

Young calves are held in quarantine for seven days to make sure they have no diseases of any kind. Before vaccination the calf is very carefully cleaned and the abdominal wall is shaved and made surgically clean. Long, superficial scratches, about one-quarter of an inch apart, are made and the seed virus is gently rubbed into these. The calves are now rigidly isolated in a special room, free from dust and screened. The animal now develops the eruption of this mild disease, cowpox or vaccinia.

On the third day the animal is placed upon a special table and after it is chloroformed to avoid pain, the site of the vaccination is given a very thorough scrubbing with soap and water and a long flushing with sterile water, and the virus is obtained from the vaccination.

Fifty per cent glycerin is added to the pulp and this is ground to a very fine state. It is then allowed to age. The glycerin destroys all of the bacteria but does not destroy the active principles in the vaccine, unless it stands too long.

Now it is hermetically placed in capillary tubes or in small vials. An autopsy is performed upon the calf immediately after the vaccine is taken and if there are any lesions showing that the calf had developed any other disease than cowpox, the vaccine is destroyed. Vaccine manufacturing is done under the supervision of the United Public Health Service.

The housekeeper who frequently entertains, knows the value of a stuffed tomato salad. The brilliant red of this vegetable gives an effect of contrast and daintiness which tempts the appetite as well as delights the eye. Try the following:

Beet-Banana Stuffing for Tomatoes—Dice four large cooked beets and add to them thinly sliced bananas. Moisten with two tablespoons of boiled salad dressing and mix gently till the red from the beets colors the banana and dressing. Fill four hollowed-out ripe tomatoes, with this mixture and top with an extra dab of the dressing. Serve on lettuce.

Bacon-Bean Stuffing—Mince 12 slices of crispy fried bacon and mix with it one and one-half cups of cooked lima beans. Add two tablespoons of the tomato pulp (which was removed in scooping out the tomatoes), stir in one tablespoon of boiled dressing and stuff four medium sized tomatoes with this mixture. Garnish tops with crisply fried bacon slices and serve very cold on lettuce.

Apple-Date Stuffing—Pare and core four large red apples, then cut in dice. Moisten with the juice of one lemon and add one cup of dates which have been stoned and cut small. Pack the mixture into four scooped-out tomatoes.

Kidney-Bean Stuffing—Soak one cup of kidney beans overnight in cold water to cover, and in the morning drain and cook in salted water till tender. Again drain, then mix the beans with one tablespoon of soft tomato pulp (removed from tomato-interiors) and also add ten stuffed olives which have been finely minced. Garnish with whole olives. This fills four tomatoes.

Potato-Egg Stuffing—Cut three large boiled potatoes in small pieces and marinate for one hour in enough French dressing to moisten well. Then add the chopped whites and mashed yolks of four hard-boiled eggs, one-half cup of salt, one tablespoon of ground raw onion and one teaspoon of finely-chopped parsley. After filling four tomatoes with this stuffing cover tops with sprigs of parsley.

Chicken-Pepper Stuffing—Cut cooked chicken in tiny bits and measure (or use canned boned chicken). To one cup of chicken add one green sweet pepper which has been cooked in salted water till tender (seeds removed) then minced. Also add three tablespoons of uncooked tomato pulp and one tablespoon of Mayonnaise. This fills four tomatoes. Garnish with celery tips.

All inquiries addressed to Miss Kirkman, in care of the "Housekeeping" department, will be answered in these columns in the next issue. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if possible, a quicker reply is desired, a stamped and self-addressed envelope must be enclosed with the question. Be sure to use YOUR full name, street number, and the name of your city and state.—The Editor.

CHAPTER LIX.

Konrad was at the opera the next night. It was during all the flutter and stir of the first entr'acte that Hilary heard a certain buzzing about her: "There, that's Konrad! The tall one, with the bushy black hair and the moustache!"

Hilary, who had taken Rose West's place with her husband, and with her fine-looking old father, for this occasion, because Rose wanted to go to a dance, was standing with Walter West in the almost emptied orchestra seats, talking animatedly with a dozen or more persons who were, like herself, surging about for a few minutes' relaxation. The entire great lighted floor of the immense building was entirely filled with moving and scattered forms; women with their great fur wraps slipping from their bare shoulders, with jewels gleaming upon their hands and throat and hair.

In every box was a reception; Hilary nodded to Violet Vanderwort, in the Dwyer box; Violet's entire back was bared to the public gaze as its owner turned to talk to somebody behind her. The Manns were there, and the Duers and the Davenport; Hilary and the laughing women to whom she spoke usually began together: "Did you ever see anything like it? Everybody!"

She dared not look to see Konrad. The mere mention of his name made her feel giddy and cold. She went on flirting charmingly with old Doctor Poett and the handsome Frenchwoman who had evidently come with the Cliff Overtons, but who was now deserted by them, and charmed to meet the young lady who had heard "Faust" at the Paris Grand Opera House when she was a child.

"Hilary, where's your coat?" Cy Dwyer said, making a hilarious progress toward her through aisles, groups, and seats. "You're getting to be a big girl now, dear, you can't run around with your little arms bare, as the little ones do—"

"I like that!" Hilary said, richly amused, glancing down untroubled at her gown. "I take it you haven't seen Violet?"

"What?" he laughed delightedly. "What? Bon soir, Madame; bon soir qui m'aima, what? Hilary, I love you, it's my heart you-all are aimin' at, Tom!" as the girl says in "The Heart of Maryland."

"It's Butterfly's, of course," Hilary said. "Poor little Butterfly, she's having a quiet time of it. But I believe she is coming to "The Three Kings" next week; she'll play a lot of that music, and the Wendells are bringing her. How do you do?"

The last words, casually and sweetly spoken, caused Cy to glance involuntarily over his shoulder in the direction of Hilary's eyes. He saw Kronski, some twenty-five feet away, with a group of women, looking unusually handsome, serious and pale. Cy looked back; Hilary, who was, he decided, the handsomest woman in the house, continued to look about her half-smilingly while talking to the old surgeon and the Frenchwoman. She wore a black and-silver gown Cy had not seen before, and slowly moved the big, frail arc of her delicate lace fan. Cy noticed how superb her bearing was, she looked heroic, somewhat, as her white breast rose and fell with sudden stirring thought; her shadowed eyes looked bluer than ever in the clear pallor of her face.

While he covertly watched her, perhaps appreciating without in the least realizing that a moment of acute emotion was here, she bowed toward an elderly woman with silver hair who was seated in the direction exactly opposite that in which Konrad stood, and said impulsively:

"There's Elise Taylor's adorable grandmother! Come with me, Cy, I must speak to her!"

Cy looked down at her approvingly, as they worked their way along.

"Do you know you're getting awfully pretty, Hilary?" "Am I?" I love to have you say so!"

"You know I've been half in love with Dora for years. Darned if I don't call it off, and land it all on you!" Cy said, handsomely.

"Don't thank me, gal. I wouldn't do it if I didn't know you deserve it. Hello, Mrs. Post—you remember Cy Dwyer and Miss Collyer? No, we're not engaged—yet, but I just mentioned our names together—"

"Oh, Cy, shut up!" Hilary smiled. But as she sat down in the seat next to the gratified old lady, she felt that she would like to sink on downward through the floor, and into the cool earth, and sleep there forever.

Coming out of the opera house, when the last note had died away—for her old escort would not hear of cutting one—she saw Konrad again. The lobby was a sea of circling forms; a cold swift rain had commenced to fall,

Theatres

MURPHY'S COMEDIANS

"Sainted Hypocrites," now showing nightly at the tent theatre of Mahurin's Players (Murphy's Comedians), Central avenue and Stocker street, Casa Verdugo, is a revealing drama of human life, with truth versus dissimulation as its theme. While the play is serious, it abounds in humor, and the laughs are frequent.

Particularly during the first half of the third act does "Sainted Hypocrites" get hilarious. Any one who has ever gone through the embarrassment of asking for the heart of his "sweetie" and then asking her dad or big brother for her hand, will enjoy the delicious foolery of this scene.

Here is one of the greatest plays of the day, made famous throughout the East by George Harrison, its author-producer, and soon to be done in pictures by the Fox Film Co., according to Manager J. A. Menard of Mahurin's Players.

As the seating capacity of the tent is limited and thousands will want to see this old favorite, Mr. Menard urges Glendaleans to purchase their tickets in advance for "Sainted Hypocrites" at J. J. Schulte's drug store, 251 North Brand boulevard. The curtain rises nightly at 8:15 o'clock.

THE GATEWAY
American motion picture "fans," in attempting to express their admiration for their favorite stars, generally limit themselves to letters or small trinkets.

But the foreign "fan" goes to greater extremes in this respect—much to the grief of some screen players. Snakes, tiger and lion cubs, lizards and similar "gifts" have been received by stars in the past. Curiously enough, the foreigner believes that a live pet constitutes the ideal gift for the headliner of filmdom.

Sylvia Breamer, the leading player in "The Woman On the Jury," a First National picture, directed by Harry O. Hoyt, playing at Gateway Wednesday, can testify to this penchant. Recently she received four bantam roosters from Jose Gonzales, manager of the Teatro Nacional, Cuba. She promptly christened them Jack Dempsey, Luis Firpo, Jess Willard and Georges Carpentier, and can be seen any day in the rear yard of Miss Breamer's Hollywood home.

The actress also received a Pekinese from Norma Tauretz, manager of the Theatre Wien, Vienna, Austria, with this letter:

"My clients like your work, strange to say, as I like no picture actors. I prefer the stage. However, as my clients flock in great numbers to see your pictures, and as they contributed to buy the late Emperor Charles' pet dog for you, I suppose you must be all right. May peace and happiness ever follow you."

There is also the usual Wednesday attraction of select vaudeville, and a program of special interest will greet Gateway patrons tomorrow night.

THE GLENDALE
Jackie Coogan in "Little Robin Crusoe" continues at the Glendale theatre.

THE T. D. & L.
Norma Talmadge in "Secrets" concludes today at the T. D. & L. theatre. Rodolph Valentino in "Monsieur Beaucaire" opens tomorrow for a four-day run.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Baby Buntz, the cute little rabbit girl, skipped over the fields and through the woods one morning until she reached the hollow stump bungalow where Uncle Wiggily lived. The rabbit gentleman had just finished twinkling his pink nose and was about to start off to seek an adventure when Baby Buntz arrived.

"Hello, Uncle Wiggily!" she called, giving him a pet name she always used when she wanted something special.

"Hello, Baby Buntz!" laughed the bunny gentleman. "What is it this morning?"

For well he knew, did Uncle Wiggily, that Baby Buntz wanted something.

"Could I take your candy kettle?" asked the little rabbit girl. "That is, I don't zazzackly want it myself, but could I take your candy kettle?"

"Well, who does 'zazzackly' want the candy kettle if you don't, Baby Buntz?" he imitated the funny way she said 'exactly.'

"Johnnie and Billie Bushytail want your candy kettle, if you please, Uncle Wiggily," spoke Baby Buntz.

"What do the squirrel boys want of my candy kettle?" asked Uncle Wiggily. "Anyhow, I don't believe I have one. I never heard Nurse Jane say there was a candy kettle in her kitchen."

"Oh, any sort of a kettle will do to boil up some sugar and molasses in to make candy," said Buntz eagerly. "Please let me take any kind of a kettle. Uncle Wiggily, and Johnnie and Billie will make candy in it."

"Oh, ho! So that's what those squirrel boys are doing," he chuckled the bunny gentleman. "Well, where are they going to make this candy, Buntz, if I let you take my kettle?"

"They've built a camp fire over there," and Buntz pointed to a clump of trees. "They got some sugar an' molasses an' butter an' vinjigger from their kitchen, 'cause, now, their mother isn't home, an' they're going to boil it all up an' make candy—but they want a kettle."

"Well, Buntz, I'll let them take my kettle, and I'll go with you to carry it to Johnnie and Billie in the woods, and to watch to see that they don't get burned!"

"Oh, goodie!" cried Baby Buntz. "I mean goodie 'cause you're coming to help make candy!"

Uncle Wiggily laughed and soon he was watching Johnnie and Billie, with Baby Buntz to help them, boiling sugar, molasses, butter and "vinjigger," as Buntz called vinegar, in a kettle over the fire.

Soon the candy was cooked, and Uncle Wiggily poured it out in a buttered tin to cool and get hard.

"Oh, won't we have fun eating it!" cried Buntz, dancing about as the candy was cooling, for it was still very hot in the pan.

"And won't I have fun nibbling Uncle Wiggily's ears!" cried a savage voice, and out of the bushes popped the Woozie Wolf.

"Oh! Oh!" cried Baby Buntz. "Chitter-itter-itter!" scolded Johnnie and Billie.

"Get away from here, you bad chap!" cried Uncle Wiggily. Quickly he took the hot spoon, with which he had stirred the candy, and he hit the Wolf on his nose with the hot spoon.

"Wowchie! Ouchie!" howled the Wolf. "Oh, how my nose burns!" And away he ran through the woods, taking his tail with him, and he didn't bite the bunny gentleman at all.

Then the candy was cool, and Johnnie, Billie and Buntz ate it, and it was very good. And, of course, Uncle Wiggily had some for himself, as he helped make it. So everything ended happily you see, and if the butter doesn't slip off the bread, just when the cup of tea is going to take it in to supper, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the tickle brush.

Whitney Boys' Chorus
To Appear at Church

The Whitney Boys' chorus, composed of forty trained voices under the direction of Professor Whitney, will be heard in Glendale Friday night, September 26, at the First Congregational church, as the result of an especially arranged program which will include six numbers. With recommendations from all parts of America as the most wonderful chorus in this country, it is expected that the local appearance will draw a large crowd to hear them in their first recital in Glendale.

Last year at the First Methodist church in Los Angeles the chorus gave a series of concerts and standing room was all that could be had so large were the crowds. It is stated that thousands were turned away because of lack of room.

Included in the local program will be Bonnie Yost, with his golden tenor voice; Clinton Hubbard, the whistler; John Painter, pipe organist; Clemens Twins, giving duets on the cornet and trombone; Coddington Brothers, masters of the piano, and Ebb Shaw and Dick Webster, flute and violin. In addition to the Whitney Boys' program there will be selections given by the Pomona male quartette and a treat is promised by these artists.

The program will open at 7:30 o'clock. No admission will be charged, but a special offering will be taken.

BIG FIGHT AHEAD FOR M'GRAW MEN

Crippled Giants, Out for Rest Yesterday, to Clash With Pirates Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—The three leading teams in each major league today ranked as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE
Team	W.	L.	Pct.	To

Brooklyn	50	60	.450	7

By H. C. HAMILTON
For International News Service.
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—With Frank Frisch, star second baseman and captain, and Heinie Groh, star at the third sack, on the bench for repairs, the New York Giants today faced the hardest fight imaginable in their efforts to win four consecutive National league pennants.

The Pittsburgh Pirates, up and coming with gathering speed, and a well-known jinx of the season to the Giants cause, furnish the opposition, and if they win two of the games in the series starting at the Polo Grounds, it is virtually conceded the pennant race is over so far as the Giants are concerned.

McGraw Gets Excuse

John J. McGraw, graying manager of the Giants, shrewd in strategy, gained a little time for breathing yesterday when he exercised the right of the home club and announced postponement of the first game with the Pirates because of wet grounds. Practically the same amount of moisture descended on the Brooklyn playing field, but the Dodgers, now in second place 1 point to the rear of the Giants, went out and defeated the Cubs, 2 to 1.

The Pirates were a little peevish over the fact that a little rain gave McGraw the excuse for postponing the game. Both Giants and Pirates had open dates for Thursday. On that date the Pirates had hoped to engage what they considered a cinch—the Chicago Cubs—in a postponed game. That contest now must be played as part of a doubleheader.

The Pirates have slightly the best of the schedule, inasmuch as they are carded for eight more contests, three of which are with the Giants and five with the Cubs. The Giants have six remaining contests. The Dodgers finish up in four more starts.

If the Giants break even in their remaining games, the Dodgers win three and the Pirates lose only two, Brooklyn would be pennant winner, with the Giants in second place and the Pirates in third.

If the Giants win four out of six, it would be necessary for the Pirates to win seven of their eight provided Brooklyn won only two, in order to top the list.

By taking five of their six games, the Giants can win the pennant, providing the Pirates lose one.

The American league race, as a tight affair, is not at the hot point of the National. The Washington Senators won yesterday, maintaining their lead of two games over the Yankees, who also won. The Senators can now win if they break even in their six remaining games and the Yankees lose only two.

Herman Pilleto went to the mound for the Detroit Tigers and turned in a 9 to 1 victory over the Red Sox.

Perfect Score

Meet WILLIAM O. CLANIN of Glendale who, on September 19, rolled a 300 score at the Glendale Recreation Center in the Jensen Palace Grand Shops building, winning $100 in cash and a $50 suit of clothes.

It pays to be proficient. William O. Clanin, 600 South Adams street, on Friday night, September 19, bowled the perfect score of 300 at the Glendale Recreation Center in the Jensen Palace Grand Shops building.

Today he is the proud possessor of $100 cash presented him by Robert S. Jensen and Manager Peter Neise of the Recreation Center, and a $50 suit presented by Webb's Men's shop, 105 South Brand boulevard.

More than 150 interested spectators watched Clanin's performance. He was matched with Milton Morgan and when he had made five strikes the interest of all eyes was upon him. Strike after strike was made and when he made his eleventh Clanin was weak with nervous exhaustion, according to Manager Neise.

Started Year Ago
It is said that Clanin started bowling only a year ago on the local alleys. Three weeks ago he rolled the high score of 290, and his achievement of a perfect score was more or less expected, although the offer of $100 may not be made the second person to make twelve consecutive strikes in one game on the local alleys.

In the local city league Clanin bowls with the Carlock team. He has unusual form, and, having mastered the art of juggling vegetables wholesale successfully, no doubt strengthened his bowling ability.

Many other local bowlers have had their eyes on the prizes offered for a perfect score and they congratulate Clanin on doing what they have found impossible.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Brooklyn Dodgers, not minding the rain, which caused a postponement in Manhattan, took on the Chicago Cubs in a twelfth-inning struggle, winning 2 to 1. Rookies provided a considerable part of the American league matinee at St. Louis, where the Athletics beat the Browns 9 to 7.

CATALINA CUBS TO PLAY SOX SUNDAY

Island Team Has Lost But Three Games So Far This Season

Milton Patrick will lead his aggregation of fast-stepping Catalina ball players to Glendale Sunday afternoon where they cross bats with the local White Sox in what should be a corking good exhibition of the national pastime. Manager Frank Kerwin will attempt to throw away the jinx which has been following his team lately and send the Island Cubs back on the short end of the score, a feat which will require real playing on the part of the locals.

With a record as one of the most powerful semi-pro ball teams in Southern California the island team is coming to the mainland with but three defeats this season. Previous games have been played on their home diamond, but they now start to travel and should they retain their playing form shown through the summer they will be a hard combination for any club to take the measure of. The teams winning from the Cubs this season include the local White Sox, El Segundo and the Gilmore Oil.

Defeat Elks Team

The Cubs recently added a few laurels to their crown by taking the measure of the championship Elks team from Ventura and the Pasadena-Monrovia Elks' nine. These latter two squads played a nip and tuck affair a week ago and Ventura battled the San Francisco antlered herd for the championship of the state, losing in a long winded game, 2 to 1.

Manager Patrick is bringing a sweet infield combination, according to those who have seen the Cubes in action lately. Doran, Cunningham, Philter and Thompson form a quartet of snappy players and they work with machine-like action. Thompson will be remembered as the former L. A. high school star, who later enrolled at U. S. C. and then quit college to enter baseball ranks. A number of big league teams have been seeking him for next season and he is sure of being up there in a short time. Doran and Cunningham are also being sought by larger clubs. Callan, Sisto, Sanis, Hawkins form the rest of the island combination.

May Get New Ones

Manager Frank Kerwin may inject a new face of two into the local line-up for Sunday's game. The return of a number of players to these parts will enable him to fill in a gap or two and may lead to the White Sox bolstering up their chances. The local line-up for the winter league is expected to be completed in a short time.

According to announcement from the island a number of followers of the Cubs will come across with the team Sunday. The island residents have taken a keen interest in their baseball aggregation and they hope to see them go through the remainder of the season without defeat.

RINGSIDE GOSSIP

By FAIR PLAY
Special Correspondent of The Evening News, Copyright, 1924

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Paul Berlenbach is one step nearer his goal of the light heavyweight championship as a result of his knockout of Jack Reddick, the Canadian light heavy champion, at Madison Square Garden Friday night. But Punching Paul will have to develop a better defense than he showed Reddick if he hopes to stand up against all the leather that will be pushed at him in the next few months. Paul was an open target for Reddick's straight right to the jaw, and it was less thanks to Reddick's prowess than to Reddick's stage fright that the bout didn't end in the sixth with Berlenbach stretched on the mat. Reddick had him groggy, but couldn't slip over the finisher, and Paul weathered and came back for another knockout on his string.

William Lawrence Stribling was one of the many fighters who attended the Berlenbach-Reddick show. While Pa was busy with Reddick and not around to hear what his hopeful would say, the writer popped this question at him:

"How would you like your Pa and Ma to stay at home, like ordinary parents, and let you travel around on your own?"

Stribling looked frightened for a second and then he grinned. "Why should I want to do that? Pa and Ma are the best sports in the world, and the best pals. I've done pretty well sticking to them so far, and I reckon there won't be any change."

So that was that. W. L. was polite enough, but it was plain that a conversation of this sort could be carried too far.

The Ad Stone-Stribling bout on Wednesday night, is going to draw a big crowd in Newark. The Philadelphia has got his hands into shape, he says, and is eager to prove that the early promise he gave was justified.

Slamming Stanley Coveleskie for five runs in the ninth inning, the Yankees made a last minute runaway of their game with the Cleveland Indians, winning 10-4. Mike Cuyersro had nothing the Washington Senators didn't fancy. The American league leaders beat the White Sox 8 to 3.

GRIDIRON JOTTINGS

BERKELEY—California's prospective line-up for the opening of the season Saturday against Santa Clara follows: Mell and Thatcher, ends; Carey and White, tackles; Rau and Lewis, guards; Horrell, center; Carlson, quarter; Brown and Jabbs, halves; Dixon, fullback.

STANFORD—The Cardinal training program will be gradually stiffened from now on by Head Coach Warner. He was reported today to be well satisfied at the manner in which the squad is rounding into form.

CORVALLIS—Coach Schissler's plan to have no "first" team, but two eleven of equal strength might prove a life-saver to the Aggies, confronted with an unusually stiff schedule this year.

EUGENE—Some of the gloom has been chased away from the Oregon gridiron by the return of Gene Shields, veteran guard of last year.

SALEM, Ore.—Defeated 2 to 0 by the Alumni Saturday, Willamette university enthusiasts are wondering just what score the Bearcats can hold Oregon to this coming Saturday.

MOSCOW—Coach Mathews of the Vandals expects some great open field running this year from Johnny Miles, sophomore. Miles until last year never had a pigskin in his mitts.

SEATTLE—Coach Bagshaw was pleased with the showing of the Husky squad following the first hard scrimmage of the training season yesterday afternoon. All of last year's regulars are in excellent form with the exception of Tesreau who is recovering from a tonsillitis attack.

CLAREMONT—Ninety-two men turned out here today for practice at Pomona college. Coach Nixon is pointing his men for the game with University of Southern California in Los Angeles October 4.

LOS ANGELES—Coach Elmer Henderson sent University of Southern California players through a stiff workout today in preparation for the clash Saturday with California Tech.

EVIDENCE NOT LASTING

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 23.—Deputy District Attorney Albert Ford has tactfully suggested that a jury of peers be impaneled in Hemet justice court to hear the trial of Ella Bittner and Lois Pahl, accused of assault and battery by Eleanor Barnhart, who will be unable to preserve the evidence of one black eye resulting from an argument over trespassing goats on neighbor ranches.

FANCY BIRDS DISAPPEAR

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 23.—The poultry department of the Riverside county farm bureau has guaranteed a purse of $1000 for the apprehension and conviction of chicken thieves. Roosts have been pilfered of fancy birds, it is reported, and the rewards will be based on the number of chickens stolen.

BIG FELLOW CONQUERED

LOMPOC, Sept. 23.—Now dehorned, the "Buckskin" steer which has ranged the Jalama ranch ever since it and "Redskin" were brought in with a herd of cattle from Mexico thirteen years ago, the "rope evader" now follows, instead of leads, the ranging crew. Jim Olivera succeeded in stemming a stampede and lassoing the big fellow. He dehorned it and snubbed it to a tree for two days. Only a wild bull now ranges untamed over the Jalama rancho, it is said.

METHODISTS IN SESSION

SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 23.—More than 2500 Methodists from every community of Southern California are gathered here this week for their district conference. Sessions opened this morning. Examinations are being held today, and Rev. Frank Roach of Long Beach leads retreat services at 5 p. m. Tonight Bishop and Mrs. Charles Wesley Burns will be guests of honor at welcome services in the First Methodist church. Tomorrow night Dr. Clarence True Wilson is scheduled to deliver the keynote of the conference in an address dealing with the world service program.

BLUE JAYS STEAL WALNUTS

CARPINTERIA, Sept. 23.—Bluejays are gobbling the choicest walnuts from the treetops here and raccoons are nibbling the cream-colored tail hats to take the place of the usual "toppers" of the trees, according to orchardists in this vicinity. The jays vary their diet with hen fruit, the farmers' wives complain.

BASES FINE ON KICK

ORANGE, Sept. 23.—Justice of the Peace J. W. Ingle of this city has set the price of $25 on Jamaica ginger drunks. When M. C. Noble, fruit of this city, came before him and pleaded guilty to absorbing only one little vial of the violent flavoring the judge said the size of the fine was guided only by the kick, and he felt there was $25 worth therein.

HUNT FOR MISSING BOY

ANAHEIM, Sept. 23.—Anaheim police have redoubled their efforts to discover where Charles Harker, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Harker of this city, has gone to. Radio broadcasting stations in the East are appealing to "fans" to aid in the search, according to word received here from Ohio. The boy did not want to attend school.

Terrific heat in London this year brought out the style of large white sunshades trimmed with green for men and white, grey and cream-colored tail hats to take the place of the usual "toppers" of the trees, according to orchard-

Changing Business Habits with a "scrap of paper"

THE bank check has changed the financial habits of this nation. It provides a safe, convenient medium of exchange and an indisputable receipt for payments made.

The use of the "commercial banking" (checking account) facilities of this bank are equally for the big business house and the individual depositor.

Efficient housewives, whose important business is running a home, find the bank check indispensable in the payment of household bills. The average man needs it daily for his personal accounts.

W. H. LEE, General Manager of J. B. Brown & Co.

Meet Our Mr. Lee, General Manager J. B. Brown & Co., Every Night This Week at the Tent Theatre

We want to introduce you to Mr. W. H. Lee, a man of many years experience in the promotion of industrial enterprises, and just as many years of solid worth to the communities that have been proud and happy to have him within their midst.

Glendale is rich in men and women of "vision." Men and women with constructive imagination. Men and women that dream practical dreams, that make their dreams come true. They are the inspiration, the power, that conceive and mold and make communities like this, "Our Own Glendale."

Mr. Lee is one of these men.

He is an earnest, conscientious worker, which everyone must be too, if he would move these sands of life one grain. But Mr. Lee is yet a little more. He can see beyond TODAY. TOMORROW is not always a mystery to him. In a word, he has vision, and sees at a glance the possibilities that others would overlook.

To Mr. Lee is due the credit of writing and bringing to fruition the contract that Mr. Brown has entered into with the Murphy Comedians.

He saw the wholesome and wholesome appreciation that the masses of Glendale and Citizens of Los Angeles were exhibiting in gratitude for the efforts of the Murphy Comedians to make them "glad to be alive." He said to himself "THESE" people will build a New Theatre to harbor the Actors and Actresses they have learned to respect and almost love. These very people who take in this show from week to week, will be glad to BUY THEIR TICKETS IN ADVANCE. His viewpoint is absolutely correct, the facts in the development of the idea have O. K'ed his contention from start to finish.

TODAY—NUMBER ONE

THE MURPHY VOLUNTEERS. The response to our S. O. S. of yesterday has been quite liberal. But we still need another SIXTY men and women to make up our little regiment of SHOCK TROOPS. It would be a rank injustice to Glendale, let alone the Murphy Comedians, to stand idly by while further odium and annoyance are placed about this excellent Comic Troupe. Quite a number left their names at our office, but we need JUST SIXTY more today. If you are one of the writers of these stacks of sympathetic letters, PHONE Glendale 3077, or COME OVER TO 219 1/2 East Broadway and GET INSTRUCTIONS.

TODAY 33 1/3c soon $1.00

TODAY—NUMBER TWO

Wilson Avenue P.-T. A. Hears Issues Discussed

(Special Union Correspondent)

ed and the Wilson association went on record as favoring continued and better police protection of the schools.

Mrs. Arthur Franklin, president, presided over the meeting. Unanimous decision was made that at each meeting a room count will be taken and the room having the largest representation present will be given five cents a pupil, the money to be presented to the room teacher to be spent as she and the pupils see fit. Miss Ethel E. Chase's room received the money yesterday.

Greetings were given by Miss Carrie Noble, principal, who urged the parents to visit the school.

Association Leaders

Officers of the association are Mrs. Arthur Franklin, president; Mrs. Merle H. Morthland, vice-president; Mrs. S. L. Lewis, secretary; Mrs. E. B. Taylor, treasurer; Mrs. Fern Lytle, historian; Mrs. J. B. Rhodes, auditor. Chairmen announced yesterday by Mrs. Franklin are: Mrs. E. H. Thompson, membership; Mrs. H. Harris, parliamentarian; Mrs. A. B. Bonham, publicity; Mrs. R. A. Gulick, patriotism; Mrs. C. R. Germain, child hygiene; Mrs. Mary Bowls, philanthropy; Mrs. Stanley Lowry, emblems and magazines; Mrs. H. C. Jones, scholarship; Mrs. H. A. Raney, education; Mrs. John Robert White, Jr., child labor and legislation; Mrs. C. R. Bessell, visiting; Mrs. Wintersgill, better films; Mrs. A. J. Hanson, playgrounds.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by the courtesy committee, in charge of Mrs. Gaynor.

At the executive board meeting earlier in the afternoon plans were made for a luncheon for the teachers next week.

Noted Composer Enters Glendale Musical Life

Glendale musicians will be delighted to learn that Rudolph Immanuel Von Liebhich, noted composer and pianist, is to spend some time in the city during the coming winter, associated with the Emerson School of Self-Expression. He is a personal friend of Charles Wakefield Cadman. Formerly of Chicago, he has been connected with the musical life of Europe and America for many years and among his prominent pupils are found the names of Clara Osmund, the English pianist; Inga Loerum, pianist-composer of Norway; Mina Yasheva, grand opera, Berlin; Dr. J. C. MacLean, director of the MacLean Conservatory of Chicago. He was for some time music director of the Roycroft and also associated with the late Elbert Hubbard in joint tours through the east and served as music editor of the Woman's World magazine. He has also been associated with the Quinn-Campbell conservatory of Chicago.

Professor Von Liebhich is best known for his unusual artistry in musical composition. A number of light operas, "The Magic Ring," "Bonnie Prince Charlie," being the most popular, demonstrating a fineness and appeal that endeared them to all hearers, are also his work. The most appealing of his late compositions is the musical setting of James Whitcomb Riley's beloved lyric, "I cannot say, I will not say, that he is dead, he is just away," a copy of which was forwarded to President Coolidge shortly after the death of Calvin, Jr. Professor Von Liebhich received a letter of appreciation from the president, who was deeply touched by the tribute to his boy.

Harold Noice En Route Home With His Bride

ago to a charming New York girl, and they have never yet seen their son's choice of a partner in his daring exploits.

That he chose well, they are satisfied, for young Mrs. Noice accompanied her explorer husband on his recent dash to Para, in the jungles of Brazil. They made the expedition to study the lives and customs of the tropic Indians, and to compare them with the Polar Indians and Eskimos, for the purposes of an exhaustive work Harold Noice is preparing, and that is expected to startle the scientific world.

Big Christmas Dinner

The explorer and his wife, both of whom are still in their early twenties, are now on the way back to New York, and will leave for Los Angeles some time before Christmas, his parents state. And what a Christmas dinner awaits them! If all their friends were to be invited, they would have to hold that banquet in the Philharmonic auditorium.

Mrs. Noice, mother of the explorer, is not of the opinion that the United States has ever claimed Wrangel island, and declares it was not to win the island for this country that her son made the dangerous trip, but solely in the hope of rescuing his dying companions. The dispute for possession of the barren land is between England and Russia, she declares.

LEAVING FOR OHIO

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hickox, who spent the summer in Glendale, are to leave tomorrow over the Los Angeles limited of the Union Pacific for their home in Warren, Ohio. This is their fourteenth visit to California.

Glendale Choral Club Holds First Meeting

The Glendale Choral club met at 8 o'clock Monday night at the Harvard High school, when J. Arthur Myers, conductor of the chorus, was given a very enthusiastic greeting by practically all of the old members of the club and a large number of new members, in the first session of the season. Mrs. Alexander Mitchell, president of the club, greeted the members and told of the plans for the year. Paul Stillman presented the Y. M. C. A. drive plans and the coming bond election was presented by Alexander Mitchell. R. Ernest Tucker greeted the club and brought new copies of the "Rose Maiden," a cantata, which the club is working on and which will be presented at a later date. The Choral club will work with the orchestra next week, plans for which were made at last night's meeting. Mr. Tucker announced plans for elstodford, a contest of music and drama.

Thanks Evening News For Lodge Publicity

Editor The Evening News—On behalf of the Glendale Lodge No. 2, Ancient Order of United Workmen, I wish to extend to you and your paper, our sincere thanks for the hearty support you are giving us. It was the fine publicity you gave us that made possible the big meeting we held in Legion hall on September 18. Many members of other jurisdictions, who did not know there was a lodge in Glendale, were able to meet with us, thanks to The Evening News. We are planning great things for the coming year, and among them that we may number you as one of us some day.

Again thanking you, I am,
Sincerely yours,
